

MINOR CANDIDATES START CAMPAIGN

Those Who Haven't Already Taken Stump Will Do So
This Week.

Minor candidates who have not already taken the stump will get their campaigns under way this week.

John P. O'Brien, Corporation Counsel, Tammany candidate for Surrogate, will speak to-morrow night in a big rally at the Commodore Hotel, where Mayor Hylan and others will tell why they think he ought to be elected in the place of Surrogate Cochran, whom Tammany turned down.

The Women's Cohalan Campaign Committee announced yesterday its complete organization and gave out a list of its prominent members, including:

Mrs. Olive Stott Gabriel, chairman, and Mrs. Agnes Sullivan McCartney, executive secretary. The following are among the vice-chairmen: Miss Virginia C. Gliderleeve, dean of Barnard College; Miss Emilie M. Bullowa, president of the Women Lawyers Association and member of the ethics committee of the State Bar Association; Mrs. Philip Lewinson, philanthropist; Miss Evelyn Goldsmith, president Sealie Home for Crippled Children; Mrs. David Burr Luckey, member Women's Republican Club, and president of the Kansas Women's Club; Mrs. Jean Burnet Tompkins, vice-chairman League of Women Voters; Mrs. Charles L. Tiffany, member executive committee Democratic State Committee; Miss Ethel Stebbins, member Democratic State Committee; Mrs. Kate V. Jordan, author; Miss Mary Newton, former leader of the Republican organization of the Seventeenth Assembly district.

Ogden L. Mills, candidate for re-election to Congress in the Seventeenth district, will speak at two or three meetings a day until election day. His schedule includes an address at the Republican National Club, 54 West Fortieth street, Tuesday evening and an address before the Republican Neighborhood Association, 110 East Sixtieth street, Wednesday at 3:45.

Senator Wadsworth will deliver his first speeches of the campaign in Brooklyn Tuesday night. He is scheduled to appear at three political gatherings.

His first address will be before the women of the Tenth Assembly District.

Republican Club, South Oxford street. He will then go to the Eastern District high school, Marcy and Division avenues, to appear at a mass meeting.

After the high school address he will speak at the Inevitable Club, Herkimer street and Nostrand avenue, headquarters of the Seventeenth Assembly District Republicans.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland, Commissioner of Health, Democratic nominee to succeed Senator Calder, spoke yesterday at Nyack in the afternoon, and joined "Al"

Smith at night at Haverstraw. He will speak to-morrow at Plattsburgh. John M. Fitzgerald, a retired business man, will manage Dr. Copeland's campaign, with Clifford P. Williamson as secretary.

Headquarters were opened last night at the Hotel McAlpin for Judge Robert S. Johnston, Republican candidate for Judge of General Sessions. A woman's committee has been organized with Mrs. Stanley Otis chairman.

William Harmon Black, Democratic candidate for Justice of the Supreme Court, opened headquarters in the Hotel Vanderbilt, and entertained fifty women leaders of The Bronx at luncheon. There will be a reception for Mr. Black this afternoon from 4 to 7 o'clock at the home of Frank T. Carstarphen, 1 West Sixty-seventh street.

Charles P. Steinmetz, Socialist, Farmer-Labor candidate for State Engineer, will be one of the speakers at a mass meeting and rally to be held at the Lexington Theater, Lexington avenue and Fifty-first street, at 2:30 this afternoon.
